

ABSTRACT

There is a hospital-clinic linkage system which links a plurality of clinic systems 10(i) and a hospital system 20 to each other through the Internet.

5 In this hospital-clinic linkage system, inquiring e-mails, each of which contains medical data of a patient, are sent from the clinic systems 10(i) to the hospital system 20 respectively, and answers to such inquiring e-mails are sent from the hospital system 20 to each of the clinic systems 10(i) to assist the medical 10 treatment acts by the clinics.

Each clinic system 10(i) has a function as a computerized patient record (CPR) system and a linkage function to the hospital system 20. The hospital system 20 has a linkage function to each clinic system 10(i).
